australianheritagefestival.org.au

The Australian Heritage Festival is supported through funding from the Australian Government's National Trust's Partnership Program

Acknowledgement of Country

The National Trust of Western Australia acknowledges the Traditional Owners of the land and waters on which these events will be held and acknowledges and respects their continuing cultures and contributions they make to the life of Western Australia. We pay our respects to their Elders, both past and present.

Endorsed by Irene Stainton
Chair, National Trust of Western Australia Aboriginal Advisory Group

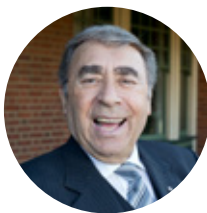

Cultural Sensitivity Note

Readers are advised that this program contains images of people who have passed away.

Out of respect for different interpretations, Noongar (Aboriginal people of south west Western Australia) is spelt in a number of different ways throughout the program.

Information contained in this program is accurate at the time of printing but is subject to change. More details can be found by contacting the relevant organisation – contact details included with each event – or check for program updates at australianheritagefestival.org.au.

Thank You to our Partners
The Australian Heritage Festival is supported through funding from the Australian Government's National Trusts Partnership Program.

Welcome to the 2018 Australian Heritage Festival

This year, the festival theme My Culture, My Story brings attention to the challenges of preserving distinct cultural expression and intangible heritage. The festival launch in WA, Connection to Country, highlights this so well with a documentary focused around Aboriginal people of the Burrup Peninsula working to preserve their heritage and a panel discussion highlighting some of these cultural challenges like preserving rapidly disappearing Aboriginal languages.

The International National Trusts Organisation 2017 warning that intangible culture is under threat helped to guide the theme which was designed to engage those stories of migration, multiculturalism and even of age to help us better understand the rich culture we have at our finger tips.

The Festival continues to promote greater awareness and understanding of our natural heritage with events like the Canning River Walk, bush tucker tours and more.

On the website you'll find performances, exhibitions and talks, but families and schools in particular might like to download the Trust Kids! Challenge with lots of heritage activities to entertain and educate your little ones.

The National Trust acknowledges the partnership with the Australian Government and would like to thank the other National Trusts around Australia and recognise the great effort and support of the many event holders, staff and volunteers that work tirelessly to produce this wonderful community driven event.

I urge you for to explore events online and in the program to better understand and celebrate Australia's heritage.

Max Kay AM CitWA
President, National Trust of Western Australia

Your Time is a Gift

Volunteering is one way to give back to the community and show your support for conserving heritage. The Trust has a great team doing just that across the state.

We can give you the chance to share your experience, learn a new skill, spend time doing something you're passionate about or doing something with real purpose with likeminded people.

If you like sharing heritage experiences and meeting new people you can greet guests at properties or if you have a green thumb you can help out in one of our gardens. Other skills we sometimes need include marketing and admin assistance. If you've got a special skill you think would assist us then we welcome your call.

To learn more email trust@ntwa.com.au or call 9321 6088.
