Past and Future Cities Forum: Reimagining Parramatta

Sky Suites Parramatta
Thursday 28 July 2022

Program

The 2022 National Trust Past and Future Cities Forum brings together renowned experts to reimagine our urban future, integrating distinctive historic character into city planning to map a blueprint for truly loveable cities.

Reimagining Parramatta will highlight and debate the key issues facing the integration of heritage into our urban design and planning frameworks.

Our speakers will ask how good cities are made, why heritage should be integrated into city planning, and discuss what happens when it all goes wrong.

The National Trust (NSW)'s vision is to bring heritage to life for future generations. An important part of this is advocating for the conservation of built, natural and cultural heritage. Advocating occurs a variety of ways including advising and supporting the community or engaging with government to protect our special places.

The National Trust (NSW) is Australia's largest independent conservation charity. We rely on the generosity of individual and corporate members, donors and volunteers to continue our work. Support us, support heritage.
