Proudly sponsored by

HERITAGE
COUNCIL
VICTORIA

Welcome

Cultural heritage is about sharing our stories. Traditions, languages, places, objects, and buildings, what makes them so important to us without the stories of who passed them on, how they have touched our lives? The Australian Heritage Festival in Victoria is an opportunity to foster understanding of our shared histories and invite learning and participation.

Optimism, Opportunities and Achievement

An exhibition reflecting on the Centenary of Local Government in Dandenong celebrations held in 1973 and the profound cultural changes in the City of Greater Dandenong over the last fifty years that have created the vibrant, cosmopolitan, culturally enriched community that it is today.

The Centenary of Local Government celebrations in Dandenong in 1973 was a community celebration by a thriving, growing community confident in its future, an emerging industrial and manufacturing powerhouse but a place still with the ambiance of a country town. Post WW2 migration mainly from Europe offered steady employment and the growing population planted the seeds for a new cosmopolitan future where families enjoyed a sense of security and optimism that was a great place to call home. The 1973 Centenary reflected these changes in the many displays, exhibitions, formal dinner, and ball as well as The Pageant of Progress attended by an estimated crowd of 60,000.

Honouring Those Who Served

On this walk we will visit 8 service persons who have been honoured with a flag. Samuel Ettingove who pleaded with Authorities saying that it was his earnest desire to enlist as a British Australian soldier and not as a Russian. Nevertheless, his obvious sincerity convinced the authorities, an exception was made and his naturalisation was expedited but never ended up fighting for his new found land as he was killed riding his Motor Bike which collided with a Tram. Also on the walk are Gershon Bennett, Richard Ernest Lowday and others. Come and hear the stories of these brave and courageous people.
