

World Refrigeration Day, 26 June (& 28 June)

Exhibition - Geelong Showgrounds Museum

Cool Skills - Past and Present

James Harrison invented commercial refrigeration
beside the Barwon River
in 1854.

Who knew?

You will

when you visit the Geelong Showgrounds Museum on 26 OR 28 June, 10 am to 3.30 pm (last entry 2 pm)

Engineer Warwick Bryce will attend on 28 June demonstrating his unique working model of Harrison's 1857
ice-making machine

Don't miss seeing this!

Enter Showgrounds at 79 Breakwater Rd, Breakwater (Main Entrance)

Book at <https://www.trybooking.com/DBXUP>

Short introductory talks in the Museum's refrigeration section every hour on the hour.

Thank Geelong's original refrigeration engineer for the benefits that he gave to Australia and to the world!
Stay to browse the Museum's collections of objects and information about other pioneering industries around Geelong.